FAVORITE GARDEN PLANTS

To Make Your Garden More Attractive and Your Property More Valuable

Here's a circular showing in natural-color the leading garden plants that are famous for giving outstanding results. Every one of them is easy to grow, absolutely hardy and will give you many hours of enjoyment and pleasure.

Look this circular through carefully and then either call, write or come in to see us about taking care of your requirements. We have a good stock on these plants, but you must be sure to get them started this Spring for best results.

Hybrid Tea Rose

ETOILE DE HOLLANDE

ETOILE DE HOLLANDE is one of the best ever-blooming Hybrid Tea Roses. Its brilliant red color is always striking . . . always beautiful. Very vigorous and easy to grow, it will actually bloom within 10 weeks after planting provided you get your new plants set out before hot weather.

There are many other leading roses shown inside this circular, but none of them, with the possible exception of Peace and Crimson Glory, are more beautiful than the one shown above.

RED McINTOSH APPLE has been the favorite eating apple for years. There is no special trick to growing them . . . the important thing is to get the trees established as soon as possible because it takes several years before the regular standard fruit trees come into bearing. (The dwarf trees illustrated on the back of this circular will bear sooner.)

GOLDEN BELL FORSYTHIA

GOLDEN BELL FORSYTHIA is one of the best known . . . the most spectacular . . . and the easiest of all shrubs for ordinary garden use. It thrives under all sorts of conditions, giving you a tremendous display of sparkling bright blooms very early in the Spring. An exceptionally strong, vigorous grower, Forsythia can be depended upon to make your garden more beautiful for many years to come. A few dollars spent on this plant now will pay handsome dividends in the future.

ROSES ARE EASY TO GROW!

NO OTHER PLANT GIVES YOU SO MUCH BLOOM . . . SO QUICKLY
. . . . AS OUR MONTHLY EVERBLOOMING HYBRID TEA ROSES

Here are 20 of the most widely planted and best known everblooming Hybrid Tea Roses. They are the varieties the experts prefer . . . the ones that win prizes at Flower Shows! And what is even more important, these are varieties that you yourself can get to give you dozens and dozens of blooms continuously from June 'till frost.

Will Bloom in 10 Weeks

Plant these everblooming roses this Spring and by the middle of June they will actually be blooming right in your garden. Grow vigorously, they keep producing more and more lovely buds and magnificent blooms continuously right up until frost. The heaviest, most luxuriant bloom is in June and again in September. But even during the Summer a garden planted with these roses will be colorful and beautiful all the time.

EASY TO TAKE CARE OF

Beautiful roses like these are not hard to grow provided you start them in good soil. Fertilize regularly and spray them about once every 10 days. Use modern fertilizers and sprays. It's now very easy even for a beginner to grow roses just as beautiful as any you see here. We can help you select varieties and can recommend a simple program of fertilizing and spraying that will produce good results.

CLIMBING ROSES

To drape over arches, fences, posts, etc. few climbing plants are as spectacular and satisfying as Climbing Roses. Hardy and vigorous growth, magnificent display of bloom and ease of culture makes them one of the most dramatic and striking of all plants for covering trellises, fences, posts, against buildings, etc.

Easy to Grow and Care For

Climbing Roses last for years and years, becoming larger and more beautiful year in and year out. No other plant gives you so much bloom and so much enjoyment for so little work. In particularly cold places, the canes should be placed down on the ground during the Winter, but aside from this, they require absolutely no special care.

FLORIBUNDA ROSES

These are a new type of cluster rose that bears huge clusters of buds all Summer long. Frequently, there will be as many as 12 or 15 roses in a beautiful cluster right on one stem! They start blooming in June and continue profusely right up until freezing weather.

The Floribunda roses are ideal for mass plantings in rose gardens, beds, borders, as hedges . . . in fact they are ideal any place that you want a continuous mass of gorgeous color.

MOST POPULAR PLANT NOVELTIES

Amazing New Plants for Your Garden!

AMAZING 5-IN-1 APPLE

These amazing trees actually have not one, but FIVE different kinds of apples on the same tree! Just plant it and watch it perform! Once established, your 5-in-1 Apple Tree will produce big red juicy McIntosh apples; Jonathans so crisp and sweet you'll love every mouthful; dark red Baldwins for the tastiest pie apples this side of Heaven! Red Delicious, king of eating apples and the golden pleasure of the famous Yellow Delicious. There is no special trick in growing these trees . . . the five different varieties of apples are all grafted on to the same tree. This has been a favorite garden novelty for years.

FULL SIZE FRUIT ON DWARF TREES

DWARF APPLE

Dwarf apple and pear trees bear fruit years earlier than standard fruit trees. You may even pick your first fruit within a year or two after planting.

DWARF PEAR

Although the trees are not much bigger than a Lilac bush even when fully grown, they are loaded with delicious tree ripened fruit of normal size. Remember, though the trees are dwarf . . . there is nothing small about the delicious, full-size fruit. And no other fruit tree will start bearing so quickly!

LIVING FENCES

So Dense No Person or Animal Can Get Through

This is the amazing Multiflora Rose that has become so popular in the last couple of years. Very fast growing . . . it makes a tough, vigorous, dense screen that nothing can get through. Under good growing conditions, may easily attain a height of 3 to 4 ft. the very first season. Covered with small white blooms for about two weeks in June . . . and loaded with thousands of brilliant red berries in the Fall.
